V-180®

The V-180® is a 180-degree judgmental use of force simulator whose immersive experience translates into real-world survival skills.

“ For training, we always say, practice like you play, right? These simulate real-life scenarios. Officer safety. Safety to citizens. Safety to your fellow partner. People you work with. We’re trying to achieve safety for everyone, and controlling it, in very high-stress situations. ”

Nick Poblocki, Firearms Instructor, Buffalo Police Department

“ The [VirTra firearms training simulator] system is very immersive. You feel like you are in the middle of a real situation, and our officers are amazed at how realistic it is. The V-180 really ups the ante on our use of force training. ”

Diane Scanga, Director of Campus Safety, Jefferson College
